PERSONALISED WILDLIFE SAFARI WORKSHOPS

WITH

ENTABENI SAFARI CONSERVANCY & renowned photographer ROBIN TAYLOR

Acclaimed wildlife photographer, film maker and author Robin Taylor travels extensively in Southern and East Africa filming and photographing the wildlife and scenic wonders of this fabulous continent. He has worked on various film and tv productions and his images have appeared in many international publications. His own TV series 'African Odyssey A Photographer's Journey' screened internationally on Animal Planet and his stunning photographic book of the same title has received many accolades worldwide.

Robin is hosting a series of hands-on photographic safari workshops in the malaria-free 22000 ha Entabeni Safari Conservancy in Limpopo - a stunning location for exciting once - in-a-lifetime photographic opportunities.

For photographer's of all levels, this is a practical, hands-on workshop. A maximum of six guests make it a highly personalised safari. We spend most of our time out in the bush exploring and taking photographs. Our special 4x4 safari vehicle - an exclusive vehicle for our group - allows us to get up-close and personal. Imagine being mere metres away from bathing elephants, cheetah on the hunt, a pride of lions, centimetres from a dung beetle or golden-orb spider's web - this is Wild Africa and everything from spectacular sunsets to elusive leopards is a special photographic opportunity.

The workshop safaris provide a rich learning environment for photographers keen to practice their skills and learn more about the techniques of nature photography - the emphasis is on working together in a small group of like-minded people in a wonderfully relaxed and luxurious bush environment.

With the stunning backdrop of the Waterberg, Entabeni's 4 star Wildlife Safari camp is the ideal base for the Robin Taylor Wildlife Photographic Safari Club - spectacular scenery, more than 55 mammal species including the Big 5, cheetah and brown Hyena, 380 avians, countless trees and grass varieties.
